

MAINTENANCE AND GENERAL INFORMATION FOR TIMBER / LAMINATE FLOORING

Your floor will provide years of enjoyment and enhancement for your home but as with all flooring products some simple maintenance and care should be taken to preserve its beauty over time.

Please do:

- Provide mats outside and inside to trap dirt before it gets to your floor.
- Use a micro fibre mop, well wrung out, to clean your floor.
- Provide shade / protection from direct sunlight.
- Place protector pads under all furniture.

Please do not:

- Over wet your floor. Water is the enemy of any timber / laminate floor.
- Allow spills to remain unattended - mop as soon as possible.
- Use a steam mop on your floor. This will ruin your floor.
- Use any abrasive pads or abrasive liquid cleaner to remove soil,
- Apply wax or solutions containing wax on your floor.

General Information

All floors will scratch. Most scratches cannot be removed from a laminate floor and require heavy sanding to remove them from a timber floor.

The higher the gloss level of your floor the more you will see scratches, plank joints, marks and undulations from the sub floor.

Stiletto or similar heeled shoes will dent your timber floor but are far less likely to damage a laminate floor.

Timber floors will darken with exposure to light. Move rugs / furniture occasionally to avoid patches of different colours. Laminate floors will not darken. All flooring will fade when exposed to direct sunlight.

Every timber floor will be different in appearance because no two trees are the same. Hence the attraction and unique beauty of a natural timber floor.

Laminate floors are predictable and will not vary. All floors will move with the changes in season, even floors glued directly to the sub floor.

All timber floors will have minor 'cracks' and it is not unusual to find very small splinters in your mop head. This will not have any detrimental impact on your floor.

Regular vacuuming or sweeping with a soft broom is the easiest way to keep your floor looking beautiful with the aid of a well wrung out fibre mop to remove marks. Stubborn grime
